Already Here

Aaron Niequist

We don't have to say:
"Come and fill this place."
We don't have to pray:
"Will You show Your face?"

We don't have to move
Into a Holy space.
We don't have to say:
"Come into this place."

Because You're already here, You're already here, You're already here.

Open up our eyes
The Truth is all around
Your fingerprinted skies
Your holy muddy ground

We want to walk beside
Your ever-present care
We cannot be alone
You're always everywhere

Because You're already here, You're already here, You're already here.

Ever-present love
Ever-reaching grace
Ever-patient hope
Reflecting in each face

Help us find the good
In our every day
Though ugliness abounds
You haven't gone away

Because You're already here, You're already here, You're already here.

Holy.
Glory.
Holy, Almighty,
You are already here.
